CT LEGISLATURE TAPS LOCAL LAW FIRM

(Monday, March 24, Meriden, CT) Thomas J. Welsh of the Brown & Welsh, P.C. law firm (<http://BrownWelsh.com>) is once again providing business law expertise to the Connecticut General Assembly on Uniform Commercial Code Article 9 (UCC 9). He testified before the Judiciary Committee on the “legislative fixes” (HB-5099 introduced by Rep. James W. Abrams) necessary to put the finishing touches on Connecticut’s enactment of this important law (<http://BrownWelsh.com/UCC9>).

Businesses live by borrowing – and lenders need collateral. UCC 9 provides the legal framework to make the process work. According to Welsh, “UCC 9 makes it easier to make loans based on collateral – which keeps the cost of borrowing down.” As home to more Fortune 500 corporations than any other state, Connecticut strives to have a modern, commercial legal system.

Brown & Welsh has a national reputation in business law (domestic and international) and related litigation, arbitration and mediation, including contracts, Uniform Commercial Code (sale of goods, promissory notes, electronic transfer of funds, letters of credit and security interests), bankruptcy, and computer law (including domain name disputes and identity theft).
